Observe the following map of Königsberg circa 1736:

Try to devise a walk where you travel over each of the 7 bridges once and only once. It doesn’t matter where you start and where you end. You do not need to finish in the same place you started. You can also think about the city in the following simplified way: